Report

A seminar on Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) was conducted by the Department of Botany, All Saints' College jointly organised by Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of the College on 19/07/23 Wednesday. The event aimed to create awareness and disseminate knowledge about the importance and significance of intellectual property rights in today's dynamic world.

The seminar commenced with a warm welcome from Dr. Cynthia Christopher, Head of the Botany Department, followed by an inaugural speech from the speaker of the day Dr. Lovely B. Dr. Lovely B is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Plant Breeding and Genetics, Agriculture University, Thiruvananthapuram. The speaker, an eminent expert in intellectual property rights, delivered an insightful talk, emphasizing the crucial role of intellectual property rights in fostering innovation and creativity. The session provided an overview of intellectual property rights, explaining their definition, scope, and the various forms they can take. The speaker elaborated on the key differences between patents, trademarks, copyrights, and trade secrets. There was an active interaction between the speaker and the students.

The seminar on Intellectual Property Rights proved to be a resounding success, achieving its objectives of increasing awareness and understanding in students. Students gained valuable knowledge about the significance of protecting intellectual property and how it positively impacts various industries and the economy as a whole. The program concluded with a Vote of Thanks by Ms. Maha Noushad, second semester B.Sc. Botany student. A total of 80 people participated in the program. It included 4 teaching faculties and 79 students.
