

WORK IN PROGRESS SEMINAR 2024

*Research and PG Department of English
All Saints' College, Thiruvananthapuram*

Date: 11 March, 2024

Venue: Audio Visual Hall, All Saints' College

The Work in Progress Seminar organised by the Research and PG Department of English, All Saints' College aims to facilitate a comprehensive awareness of the research work carried out by the doctoral scholars. The seminar will provide a constructive environment for the research scholars to assess their progress and imbibe pertinent ideas that will aid their scholastic output. The researchers will not only get a concrete idea about their work but will also benefit from the invaluable feedback that will enhance their critical acumen. Our aim is to foster a research environment that will inculcate the core values of transparency, integrity and originality. The seminar will be a forum for analytic thinking and enlightened discussions which will stimulate discerning perspectives and ingenious contemplation.

Report of the “Work in Progress” Seminar 2024

The Work in Progress Seminar organised by the PG and Research Department of English was held on 11th March, 2024. The Seminar was organised to critically evaluate the research output of the Ph.D scholars. All the full-time research scholars were asked to make a presentation regarding the progress of their research work. The scholars prepared a detailed synopsis of their work and mailed it beforehand for the detailed perusal of the research guides. On the day of the presentation, 10 scholars presented their area of specialisation before the research committee of the Department of English. The research guides of the department, comprising Dr. Sonya J. Nair, Dr. Raj Sree M.S., Dr. Sr. D'Souza Pascola Adelrich, Dr. Kavita N., Dr. Liji Varghese and Dr. Vidya Rajagopal provided valuable feedback to the scholars. The research guides were able to provide a constructive and positive critical environment for the research scholars that greatly enhanced their perspectives. The Seminar was attended by other research scholars and PG students of the department.
