- To critically review the existing CBCSS syllabus.
- To identify areas for improvement and modernization.
- To develop a revised FYUGP syllabus that aligns with current trends and industry needs.
- To enhance the teaching and learning methodologies in physics.

8 Detailed description of the event

The Department of Physics, All Saints' College, Thiruvananthapuram, in collaboration with the Board of Studies (UG Physics), University of Kerala & IQAC, All Saints' College Trivandrum, organized a five-day residential workshop focused on the preparation of the FYUGP syllabus. The workshop aimed to enhance the quality of undergraduate physics education in Kerala by critically reviewing the existing CBCSS syllabus, identifying areas for improvement, and developing a revised syllabus aligned with current trends and industry needs.

Key Activities and Discussions:

- Syllabus Review: Participants engaged in a detailed review of the existing syllabus, identifying its strengths and weaknesses and creating a new FYUGP syllabus.
- Curriculum Development: Experts discussed the need for incorporating modern topics, such as nanotechnology, materials science, forensic science, renewable energy and energy technology into the syllabus.
- Pedagogical Strategies: The workshop explored innovative teaching methods, including active learning, problem-based learning, and project-based learning. Various assessment patterns were also discussed.
- Laboratory Curriculum: Discussions were held on the importance of practical training and the need for modernizing laboratory experiments.

Outcome of the event/Evaluation by Program Coordinator

PRINCIPAL All Saint's College Thiruvananthapuram

By critically reviewing the existing syllabus and discussing innovative teaching methodologies, the workshop aimed to enhance the quality of physics education in the undergraduate level in Kerala. The recommendations from the workshop, including the revised syllabus, emphasis on practical skills, and industry-academia collaborations, will play a significant role in shaping the future of physics education. By implementing these recommendations, it is expected that the quality of the Four-Year Undergraduate Physics education in Kerala will be significantly improved, leading to the production of highly skilled and industry-ready graduates.
